Dear Barkley family,

We are very saddened to hear of the passing of Jeanie. We feel like we were just getting to know her when we joined the soccer team. She always had a wonderful spirit and was always positive about the team! Our prayers and thoughts are with you and she will always be remembered dearly. Hats off to a wonderful soccer mom who will always be watching over the team!!!!!!

When all the clouds darken up the skyway

There's a rainbow highway to be found

Leading from your window pane

Just a step beyond the rain

Somewhere over the rainbow

Way up high

There's a land that I heard of

Once in a lullaby

Somewhere over the rainbow

Skies are blue

And a dreams that you dare to dream

Really do come true

Someday I'll wish upon a star

and wake up where the clouds are far behind me

Where troubles melt like lemondrops

Away above the chimney tops

That's where you'll find me
Somewhere over the rainbow
Bluebirds fly
Birds fly over the rainbow
Then why, then oh why can't I?
If happy little bluebirds fly
Beyond the rainbow
Why, oh why can't I?

John, Jess, Lara, & Heather,

I'm so sorry that I didn't know about this beautiful website earlier so I could have talked to Jeanie. My simple words will not be able to express my heartfelt sympathy for your loss.

We are all better for having share time in your lives with Jeanie. She touched so many people in just 50 short years. She was an angel on earth and now the most wonderful guardian angel in heaven. My heart feels so broken, but it's also running over with great memories.

I was so very blessed to have shared my childhood, college roommate days, dreams, and even my wedding dress with such a friendly, positive, cheerful, honest friend. My family all nicked named her "Giggle Box" when she was only 6 years old.

Jeanie was a great mother, wife, daughter, granddaughter, and friend.....she will always be remembered.

You and Jeanie's parents are in our thoughts and prayers.

Dear John, Jess, Lara, & Heather,

We were so sorry to hear of your loss, there are no words to express how saddened we are. Whenever Jeanie & I volunteered together there were always smiles and giggles, as well as, of course hard work. We were all touched by Jeanie's strength, positive attitude, and spunk!! No matter what she was doing there was love and fun, never complaints. We are so lucky to have been friends with Jeanie we will miss her very much! Please accept our deepest condolences, and please know we are all here for you!! If there is anything we can do at all, please don't hesitate to ask!!

Dear John, Jess, Lara, and Heather,

There are no words. None to express the sadness and loss. None I can think of adequate to offer comfort. Jeanie was just one of the finest people we know, and we all ask, 'Why?', and there is no answer. God must have big plans for Jeanie, and heaven must have needed one very special angel. Jeanie lives on in us, her friends, who are forever changed for the better for having known her. She lives on in the smiles of her beautiful girls, and in the many projects she accomplished while here with us. She lives on in the hundreds of lives she has touched.

You are all in our prayers, and so much in our thoughts. It sounds trite, but if there's anything, anything... we're there.

Dear John, Jess, Lara, Heather and all your family,

We are truly saddened to hear about Jeanie. Although we only knew her for a short time, it was obvious what a spark of life she was. She was a lot of fun to be with on the sidelines of the games while she helped out with team stats, write-ups, pictures, etc. She was always busy helping out in some way. You could hear her giggle all the way down the field and it made everyone feel great no matter what was happening in the game. It was also obvious Jeanie didn't just sit on the sidelines but was involved all over the place continuing to help and support so many others. This is what we will remember most about Jeanie...how she cared about and helped out with her family and so many others.

Our prayers and deepest sympathy go out to you and your family. We were very fortunate to know Jeanie and we will truly miss her.

I have struggled with what to write and I am typically not at a loss for words. (Jeanie would have vouched for that). Candy called last night to let me know. I had only been on this site a bit earlier and you hadn't yet posted. I find myself looking at the photos, at Jeanie's sparkle in her eyes even on her longest of days, thinking of sitting in soccer chairs, parking lots and laughing about how to get it all done. I am so glad to have shared in part of her life, of your lives and the joy that John and Jeanie shared as they supported the girls in all their activities. We all share a responsibility to find the opportunity to giggle, to share that zest for life and to be ever present to the gifts of family and friends. When you are ready to let us in, we will be there for you. Always will be.

Peace to you all,

Hi,

I read about Jeanie's illness in the newspaper awhile back, but just a few days ago became aware of how ill she had become. This afternoon I subscribed to the journal updates, and sadly, the first update I received was to inform us of her passing. I work at NWES and knew Jeanie when Heather was with us. Dear Jeanie, John, Jess, Lara & Heather,

Thank you for sharing the wonderful news about the giggle sighting, as I was reading the update I could hear her giggle!! We are so glad that you had a good day & now we will pray for more good days to come!! Jeanie has more spunk and fight in her than anyone I know, she is going to beat this!!! We continue to pray and I think everyone's prayers are becoming stronger and stronger, just as Jeanie will fight to become stronger and beat this!! Thinking and praying often for all of you!!

Love,

My God, it's been so many years since the wonderful old Compass and Avid days - but I remember you well as a strong, sincere, down-to-earth, take-no-bullshit kind of person (a perfect match for John!) who will lick this thing if anyone can. You have been in my thoughts for quite some time since Dan Cookson and Regina have kept me posted.

This is the special time of year that reminds us to think hard of faith, love, hope, and charity for all, and especially for those who have at one time or another graced our lives simply by their presence. I genuinely feel these things for you and your family; know that I will be thinking of you throughout the holiday and into the new year - and hoping for a full and speedy recovery. Godspeed.

Let it snow ... Let it snow ... Let it snow ...
City side walks, Busy side walks ...

God rest ye Merry "Barkley's"...

Silent Night, Holy Night .... All is calm, All is bright ....

Chestnuts roasting on an open fire ....

It came upon a midnight clear ....

Frosty the Snowman was a happy jolly soul ...

Jingle Bell, Jingle Bell, Jingle Bell Rock .... Jingle bells sing and Jingle Bells ring - snowing is blowing and bushels of fun ... now the Jingle Train has begun ... !

We three kings of Orient are ....

O Holy Night ....

I can't get down to Boston to carol so I thought I would bring the caroling to you, I'm ready for some hot chocolate with the Barkley family :O)

As always 24/7 ... hugs to all

Good Morning Jeanie, John, Jess, Lara, and Heather,
Glad to have read the 'more positive' news from last evening's blog. There are a lot of people pulling in your court - the guest entries are proof that Jeanie Barkley is a quality person, one who is thought of and loved. Hopefully, knowing that so many people care will add to the resolve of beating these set backs!
Hang in there, just win one battle at a time and eventually the war will be one!
We pray for you and your family daily.
Have another positive day because we all want you and your family to have a very Merry Christmas!

Dear John and girls, My heart goes out to all of you at this time. I know how scared and worried you are about Jeanie and I understand totally. You can rest assured that we are praying very hard for all of you, but especially Jeanie. She is a wonderful person and it does not seem fair that any of you should be suffering like this.

I promise you I will pray constantly for you. I will notify my brother who is an elder in his church to have special prayer for her and my sister who is also very active in her church to have the whole church pray for Jeanie. The more people praying for the same thing, the better. I also have a friend who is a leader in his church and ask them to have special prayer for Jeanie. Keep the faith, John, Jeanie will be ok. She is a good person, wife and mother. We love you all and will pray even harder.

John & Jeanie,

Our hearts break as we read your up-date tonight. Being in the breathing business I know all too well how Jeanie must be struggling & how helpless you must feel. Your love, determination, positive attitude & prayers will keep you strong. Know that you are ALL in our thoughts & in our heart. You are both remarkable people. Tomorrow will be a better day.

Hi Jeanie,

The concert was missing something last night - you. Chris taped it so you'll have plenty to watch when you get home. Glad to hear those numbers are going in the right direction. Now we have to get you on the direction home. Always in our prayers.

Hi Jeanie, John, Jess, Lara and Heather,

GREAT Concert tonight hopefully Jeanie, you'll be able to view and listen to it - the music will definitely make you feel better and give you more resolve to get back home and get ready to have some fun on the Cabaret Cruise Ship.

Christmas time is near a time for giving and caring - Our Christmas wish for you is to get those numbers where they should be, the liver doing what it should do and Jeanie back to where she belongs!

Thinking about you daily and praying for your healthy recovery.

Always,

Gerry and Dee

John, you are a saint to keep us all posted as we think of you, Jeanie and the girls many times each day. We know your days are full, your sleep is little and your hope enormous for Jeanie's progress. Jeanie, sleep well knowing that you have a husband and daughters who work hard to put their best work forward despite the fact that their minds and hearts are with you every step of the way (they know you expect that of them) and remember that we are all carrying you in the prayers and positive energy we can send your way. You are working incredibly hard in this journey. Keep it up, dear friend.

Dear Jeanie, John, Jess, Lara and Heather:

Carol has been keeping us posted on your journey -- so glad we learned of this site! We think of you often and wanted to send along our prayers and good wishes as you all make your way through this process. Ron's son remarkably went through 2 bone marrow transplants some time ago so we have a little insight into this. It's obvious that you all gain your strength from each other. What a gift!

Dear Jeanie and John,

God bless you both, the girls, and your family. Your strength and love for each other is an example to us all. Jeannie, we will continue to pray for you all day, and everyday, for as long as it takes to get those those numbers heading in the right direction and for your liver to heal... as it will and as it must! Rest is a good thing for now. John, you make sure you get some of that too!

I am off to pray for Jeanie now. HE will listen and help us and our dear friend Jeanie. Of that, we can always be sure.

Dear John and Jeanie and family,

Our prayers are definitely with you and the kids and parents. It must be very difficult to see Jeanie so sick and still hang in there and go about your daily routines. It must also be difficult to remember at times that God is watching over all of you. Stay close to God and he will get you through. Jeanie is a tough girl and I know God will touch her with His healing hands and get that liver working properly. The Bible tells us to 'believe' in what we are asking for and it will be given to us. I do believe Jeanie is going to be fine. With so many believers praying for her, how can our prayers not be answered. Hang in there John, let us know if there is anything we can do and know that you and Jeanie are in our prayers.

How are the girls handling all this? Take care,

Hi Jeanie....Let's hope that bilirubin gets back in the normal range very soon! Keep the faith and it will happen! Just returned from the last concert of the semester at UMass.....awesome! The percussion groups and symphony band were spectacular. We weren't sure Katie would be able to play tonight because she was in the infirmary late last night with a possible kidney stone. But, she slept and took it easy today and was able to do the concert. I will be glad when she can come home for a rest. I know she needs it! Rest up, girl, and you will be home soon too! Hi Jeanie;

Enough is enough.... When we needed the new stem cells to go into high gear they did... now you have to have the new stem cells go kick the liver in the butt so that it will get it's act together and you can come home. We are keeping you and he family in our prayers. Just got done putting the snow plow on ...hopefully we won't need to use it it's to early yet. Hang in there we are all routing for you. Talk to you soon.

Hey all,

So I'm here preparing for snow and remembering that there was still raking left to do on the mountain. That's if the kids got cancelled yesterday due to frost bite! Hope not. Man was it cold!!! Maybe we'll have to extend leaf raking into snow plowing season for the Barkleys! haha!And so maybe that liver of yours needs to get its act together soon too cause Santa keeps the naughty list. And that liver is sitting right at the top. No more "good" presents on the naughty list, like John's famous margaritas. Now no liver would want miss out on those, right? So consider that bad liver warned. Hang in there, Jeanie, and know EVERYONE is with you every step of the way. All our love and prayers,

It sounds like you have some very positive things to think about - the bone marrow transplant is doing its thing, the swelling has reduced a bit, and that white blood cell count is behaving nicely! Most importantly our Jeanie is a champion and we all know that she will do it! As for that liver, I knew there was a reason, nobody likes liver!!! I would bet, if we keep bombarding that liver with prayers and good vibes, it will have to stop sulking, get on track, and join the healing party!!!

We all know what we have to do! Pray and throw as many hugs and kisses as is possible toward our Jeanie! Mixed with your giggles Jeanie, you will overcome this glitch and will show that liver who's the boss!

John and Jeanie-

The most amazing thing about you both (there are many amazing things about you) but the one that has always been the most inspiring model - is the unconditional love you have for each other, for your daughters, and for the people in your life. You set an example for everyone that you touch and I always hope that Matt and I can be half the people you are. My point is that your LOVE is what will get you through this time in your lives. You give more love in a day than most do in a lifetime and I want you to know how contagious that is. You are two of the strongest people I know and I have no doubt that soon you will be driving that car home to Hudson to bring Jeanie back to 'paradise' lane! We love you and pray for you always! Good Night! Sweet Dreams!

Love,

Good Evening Jeanie,

I know, you are waiting until we get to your house to rake all those leaves:-)
We'll be there on Saturday and have everything picked up and readied for your return home - all nice and neat!

Thinking and praying for you.

Hi Jeanie;

Hang in there, this is a minor setback. You are a very touch person and you will win this and any other battles that might get thrown your way. Will not stop the prayers. Get well soon and come home so you can really relax. Talk to you soon.

Love;

Never underestimate the power of a little woman with great eyes and a terrific giggle (which I know for a fact she has passed along to the next generation of Barkley women!). One day at a time my dear fighter! We are all hanging in there with you! Breathe, giggle, breathe. Who couldn't persevere when you have a partner like John telling you how beautiful you look on a daily basis!

Jeanie,

The saying is that 'good things come to those who wait.' You could catch up on some reading - James Patterson has a few new good books out. There's some good football on TV this weekend. BC and Virginia Tech in the ACC championship and WV and Pitt (boy did they clobber UCONN last weekend). We'll keep praying for your issues to clear up and the cells to keep growing. Thinking of you and your family always. :)

Love, Geri

Hi Jeanie!

If good things come to those who wait, you are due the motherload! You are truly a remarkable inspiration and that amazing patience will pay off very soon! Good days are coming! In the meantime, we will all help bring on those sunny days with gale force winds of prayer, hope, and good wishes from every corner of your world! We all love you and are looking forward to seeing you up and about SOON!

Jeanie:

The counts are still growing - that is fantastic news! Like they say, "What's another few days at this point?", right? You're in the best place in the world and I know that this issue will be resolved soon (probably not soon enough for you though!). Keep your chin up - we're all praying for you. Can't wait til you get to make the trip up north!

Hi,

Yeah, it stinks when MaMAis right....lousy weather day in Hudson anyway. Wait for the sunshine! Will keep our fingers and toes crossed another day for you....it's hard to walk, but for you, we can do it! Rest tonight and hopefully you can head north ASAP.

Got a Providence College surprise for you. See you soon.

Jeanie and John,

Thanks for the update. Ah, the weather is lousy anyway so she might as well get another day or two to relax :-)

Ok, it's time to throw a few prayers into high gear - I was an altar boy/choir boy long enough so I must have some credits in reserve that I can forward to Jeanie's account.

Keep positive!

Hi Jeanie and John,

Sorry to hear there are a few little setbacks, but I guess that is to be expected, although disappointed. We will continue to pray for you and I know God hears our prayers. You'll be up and about, toting those girls around to all their sports activities before you know it. Maybe you should fake it a little and keep resting.

I'm sure your Thanksgiving could have been better, I've never had hospital turkey, but it can't be good. Christmas will be better. Santa is going to bring you good things in his big black bag.

Take care and get better quick. We miss you.

Hi Jeanie;

So glad to hear that those cells are finally doing what they are supposed to do, now we still have to figure out how to get them into high gear. It would be awesome for you to be home for Thanksgiving and we will keep putting in a good word. On Thanksgiving we also will have a toast for you only thing mine will not be diet coke. With that we all could be very thankful. Talk to you soon.

Love;

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 2007 03:03 PM, CST

Jeanie,

Seems like those stem cells finally got their act together...keep growing! I must of been great to see Jess and her friends. Kids really do put a smile on your face. Hope you get the good word...discharge. Hope it won't bother you too much if you hear a few BEEP, BEEPS as we drive by and welcome you home.

Wishing and your family a very Happy Thanksgiving, and of course hope your home for the holidays.

Stay positive, thinking you and sending you all good thoughts.

HI JEANIE

ITS ABSOLUTELY BRILLIANT NEWS THAT YOUR NEW CELLS ARE NOW MULTIPLYING

EVEN BETTER NEWS IS THAT YOU MAY BE ALLOWED HOME SOON , BET YOUR REALLY LOOKING FORWARD TO THAT MAYBE IN TIME FOR YOUR THANKS GIVING DAY.

WE ARE STILL THINKING ABOUT YOU ALL OF THE TIME, ALSO JOHN AND THE GIRLS

Hi Jeanie,

This is the second time today I am trying to write to you. The first time - I hit the wrong button and there was my message "gone"! I was trying to correct a spelling era, looks like the era is in cyber space.

Anyway, GREAT news that your white cells are progressing. This is only a two day week for school so Lara will have a day to clean the house up and make it nice and tidy for you :-)

Instead of the band playing "Here Comes Santa Claus" at the parade we should change the words to "Here Comes Jeanie!"

Hopefully, you will be home for Thanksgiving - what a way to give and say THANKS! having you home where you belong.

Dee and I will have a toast just for you at Thanksgiving -of course it will be a "diet coke" 'cause that's all I drink!

We're praying for you and thinking about you - It will be a very Happy Thanksgiving when you are home.

Always,

Gerry and Dee

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 2007 05:40 PM, CST

Yahoo - still growing! All the prayers for you are being answered one day at a time - and it is beautiful. Congratulations, and keep up the good work! We all have so much to be thankful for this week, that's for sure. Grow, grow, grow!

Lots of love,

The Dapkus Family

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 2007 04:23 PM, CST

So, if those babies doubled in a day - lets see a 1.2 tomorrow and you can be like the energizer bunny and keep growing and growing and growing. I saw the family at basketball today, John has the biggest smile right now that just makes you feel good. Haven't seen Laura and Jess in a long time - they are beautiful girls and Heather (a little smelly - played a great game) and is as cute as she always is :O)

I'm keeping my fingers crossed for your ETA home, but don't rush ... make sure everything gets the thumbs up. Thats the amazing thing ...

Thanksgiving is going to be when ever you arrive home!!

Take care and we will see you sooner than you think.

Love,

Hi Jeanie,

We are so glad to hear how great you are doing!!! Keep the complaining and giggling up!! Hope you will be able to be home early next week, Hudson misses you!!!!!!

I do believe how bad people can cook because I use to be like that, I never knew you were supposed to boil macaroni before you put it into a casserole, Doug stuck a fork in it and it broke!!! I'm a better cook now. When you get home I'll make you one thing I'm good at, chocolate chip cookies.

You take care and keep up the good work of getting stronger each day!

Hi Jeanie!.....What great news! Hope you will be home for Thanksgiving and that you can relax with the family! It is so wonderful to hear that the stem cell technology is working. Isn't science great?

Katie is in Indianapolis, IN with the UMass Minuteman Marching Band. They are the featured entertainment for the Bands of America Grand National high school marching band championship. They performed yesterday and will perform again today....how cool is that? It snowed in Erie, PA yesterday as they performed for the high school that provided the gym where they slept Thursday night.

Keep the faith and be patient with the recovery! It will be great to see you at home!....Linda

Good Morning Jeanie!

Sending you a message full of love and thoughts! Wanted to share some lyrics with you to let you know that Matt and I think the world of you. Your strength, courage and bravery inspires every moment of our life! We love you! Keep up the giggling because its contagious!

I hope the days come easy and the moments pass slow

And each road leads you where you want to go

And if you're faced with the choice and you have to choose

I hope you choose the one that means the most to you

And if one door opens to another door closed

I hope you keep on walkin' 'til you find the window

If it's cold outside, show the world the warmth of your smile
But more than anything, more than anything
My wish for you
Is that this life becomes all that you want it to Your dreams stay big, your worries stay small
You never need to carry more than you can hold
And while you're out there gettin' where you're gettin' to
I hope you know somebody loves you
And wants the same things too
Yeah, this is my wish
Have a happy STEM CELL growing kind of day!!
Love,

Hi Jeannie, glad to hear you are still doing well. Sorry about the swelling and rash. You look very cute with the new anti-hairdo. Good for you for sharing the pictures. I'm so glad you have such a great support system. Who knew John could be so attentive? Just kidding. John is a good guy and I know he is helping to keep you strong. Your Mom and I have spoken on the phone twice and she has been filling me in. I report to the rest of the office as all the girls ask how you are.

We are all praying for you and your family and you quick recovery and comfort in the mean time.

Hi Jeanie. Just a quick note from the Wamsley gang up here in Goshen. Glad to hear things are looking up. Are you catching up on soap operas with the tv on all day? I only get one channel at my shop so I'm now hooked on all three soaps on channel 9! Some days my customers even have the nerve to interrupt my soaps with demands for my attention on something they want done. Can you imagine the nerve? heehee Anyway, we are keeping you in our thoughts and prayers. Thanks for the updates.

Hi Jeanie,

It's great to hear you have some good numbers and that you are eating solid foods. I haven't checked in for awhile so I'd like to say I think you look cute and very young without your hair. You can definitely pull it off better than most of us!!! Keep up the good work and get your rest. John did a great job on the Halloween house...it was a lot of fun!!! If you're feeling cold ..you could try some 'Cuddle Dudds'. They are lighter than Hot Chilis but you can wear them around under your regular clothes (indoors) without getting way too hot. Ok...I really do wear them in the winter months.... Well, again ....get your rest and keep getting better!!!!

Good Evening!!

Its wonderful to see your 'GI Jane' style. You are beautiful! Matt and I wanted to say hello and send our love your way. Please let me know if those cells need a motivational speech! I'm going to assume that John survived the Halloween season and put together another award winning Haunted House. You keep up the good work with those cells!!!

We love you and miss you everyday.

Sleep tight!

Hi Jeanie,

I think that the new look is fabulous!! Hair is soooo overated!! Sounds like things are plugging along and the Martins sure think about you all the time. Hey Jess, if you read this, I miss you face!! Hope all is well - c'mon little cells, grow, grow, grow!!!!

Wow, that's quite the modern look! I think hot pink would go great with your smile. Any color will look great as long as your smile goes with it. Just think of the money you will save on shampoo!!!! Relax and feel better. Great article in the Telegraph about the band. Lara is a "star"!

WOW! Someone with hair shorter than mine!!!! Love it! Seriously, though, you might want to find a few different styles and colors to match all your "Life is Good" shirts!

Loved the Band article in the Telegraph -- except they cut Kevin out of most of the snare line pics... on the video too!

Keep telling those baby cells to kick it into gear -- we miss you -- no matter how much hair you have!!

With that smile it really doesn't matter one bit if you have hair, and if you do what color it is! Your choice babe - just don't let John pick it out - that scares me way too much:) I saw the pictures and story about Lara and the drumline in the newspaper - how exciting. She is beautiful - and so grown up. Can you believe how our kids have grown? You look wonderful, and I know those baby stem cells are doing their work. I know this is a big week for you and we are all praying for the great news that we know will come. Grow, grow, grow! Stay strong, and keep the updates coming!

Did anyone ever tell you "Bald is Beautiful" You look fabulous! Bald and still smiling. Wigs can be fine to wear but the color should be hot pink, blue, purple. Ask Lara what the kids in school are coloring their hair. Whatever the color(or not) I am sure you will keep smiling.

Thinking of you,

Jeanie,

Two of my friends had radiation and/or chemo and they both lost their hair. One of them was skinny like you and got a wig. The other one was chunky like me and couldn't stand the thought of something hot on her head. She's like me and doesn't even wear a hat in the winter. Both girls got the opposite type of hair when it grew back in. The one that had straight hair got curly and vice versa. The one that had black hair with some gray, now has black with no gray. Right now you have control over the hair color with your wig choice. I'm anxiously waiting to hear what they hair color is when it grows back in. You continue to be in our prayers in Elkins. Becky

Jeanie, I think you should go blond. They have more fun. Mike Wood was home this weekend, so he said he was going to drop you a line. Just got back from taking Angela back to Morgantown. I think our vehicle could take it's self down there. Keep getting stronger everyday. Eveyone here in West Virginia is thinking about you everyday. Mom said to tell you hi. Those new stem cells will have you back on your feet in no time. Love to you and John and the girls. Donna

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 04, 2007 06:26 PM, CST

Hi Jeanie,

I love the new look, it's really cute!!!! I know how you feel about being cold. Since I started my treatments, I have been cold all the time also. I wear a polar fleece jacket all the time, even during the summer.

When I lost my hair this summer, I thought about getting a wig but someone told me that they were very hot to wear in the summer. But since winter is coming baby, get this wig to help keep you warm.

You look great though, I can tell that those stem cells are grabbing ahold of you. Right now I have been banned to the computer room so that our beloved Patriots will win. Kyleigh told me not to come out and they just got ahead. YEA!!!!!!

I'm heading into Beth Israel tomorrow for my treatment, I would like to stop by but my nose is always running. They told me that this happens with my treatments, but I don't want to risk anything with you. So it is best to just send you messages. I would love to see you, but I don't want to take any chances. Besides I know that you really don't want to see anyone. Just kidding.

Interception by the Pats with just 2 mins left. I've been banned again. Kyleigh is pacing back and forth, I think that she will fall into the basement. 40 seconds and I'm still banned. We just WON and Kyleigh is crying. She hates Peyton Manning, so this game meant alot to her. Now that I have totally bored you, I will let you get some valuable sleep.

Love you. Candy Pharris

Jeanie:

As far as wig color, I'm thinking platinum blonde! For some reason I wound up wearing a wig that color last night at your house as we celebrated Halloween with Bubba and my pal Lara and acknowledged John's 61st birthday! You can double check with Paul, but it made a stunning statement... Actually, I'm quite fond of your shaved look :)

We don't care what color your hair is - we just want you back on the sidelines laughing and keeping an eye on Joyce and Beth. Hang tough - get those baby stem cells going strong Warrior Queen!!!

Hi Mrs. Barkely!

You are an inspiration and on my "Hero List"...(That is a list in my swimming log book, that I keep near the pool during practice. When I just can't do another lap, I look at my hero's and keep on swimmin'!) It is a terrible trick that my coach cooked up! ; )

I just wanted you to know that I was thinking of you . My mom has been keeping me up-to-date on how you are doing. Stay strong! Remember, you were tough enough to take a bunch of noisy girls on a Girl Scout Camporee and stay relatively sane! How many can make THAT claim! You are on the home stretch and I will look forward to seeing you up and around in no time!
Feel good always!!!

Hi There,

Hope you are rested for tonight's big game. Did John tell you how he had to "save" me from my own video stupidity the other day? I finally managed to get footage of Melissa. Ready to create another video? You've got to get better in order to help her and John create a soccer video. We've got 5 coaches asking for copies right now. Happy Birthday Jeanie!

This is such a blessing that a match was found. It couldn't have happened to a better person - you have given so much and now it is your turn to receive! Our thoughts and prayers are with you and the family through this unbelievable procedure ~ It's great to see the updates on your progress and know that it is going to work!! My glass is always full .....

G' Day Mate,

Happy Birthday!! We can't wait to see you. How about them Mountaineers!! I did the bone marrow transplant test to be put on the donor list. I did it for the next Jeanie that might come along. Of course my marrow can't be as good as the Australian stuff you have. Are you going to have Kangaroos at the house now? I can see them hopping around the yard.

Love you, give my best to everybody and feel free to ask if you need anything, anything at all.

Hi Jeanie,

It is great to hear you are almost done with the radiation treatments. You are an amazing woman and a model of courage and strength like none other. The McKain's have "beefed-up" the prayer lines for you and have every saint who has ever worked miracles along with our Catholic Church praying hard for you. In fact, I have to give them updates as to how you are doing so they can announce it from the podium on Sunday. I guess people want to hear the results of their efforts.

Hey I forgot to tell you Joe began taking up the trumpet and joined the band at the HS. Now I know where the expression "blow your brains out" comes from. The dog just runs and hides behind something when he practices. He doesn't quite hit all the notes right yet.

with love,

My mom forwarded your mom's email to me. This is the first time I have heard about CaringBridge. What a neat way to stay in touch with friends and family during a lengthy hospitalization.

The leaves in Elkins have been beautiful this year. Lots of colors and sunshine. Today the high was in the upper 60's. That's hard to believe for the end of October.

It sounds like you're on your way to being out the of the hospital and ready to eat turkey and stuffing before long. You're in my thoughts and prayers.
